Good morning. It has been a busy morning. Students are filling our required docs and I have a few minutes to check my phone. It has been a great morning so far.

Hey, Love. I am glad you are having a great day. If I were on of your students, those required documents would defiantly take forever because I would be lost in your captivating eyes.

How was your day? Tell me what you did. My first day went well. My lips are chapped. I talked a lot and my mouth is a little soar.

I hit yoga on the way home. I was able to do crow to plank in a sloppy single movement. In time it will smooth out. Showered, dinner. About to review for my tomorrow then bed with my three pillows.

I love your yoga dedication. It makes me super happy and more bonding to you.

My yoga class was great, but the class was packed. Monday 5 pm class is very popular. You almost touch the person next to you.

Hey good morning, I agree. I am not a fan of touch "other" people in the class. Lol

My 5:30 class had a right number, and I could perfectly stretch out. In shavasana they gave us cold lavender towels. It was so nice.

Today, I am going to kill these girls slides. It is a lot of behind the science. Preconception, hormones, physiological changes, tomorrow starts the real reason they came, birth.

Brendan completed his modules for his learners permit. I need to book his appointment the DVM. His das and I are talking about a car for him.

Have a great day, Cyrus. Send me selfie when you are working.

Hey there, morning glory. My class was packed because of being Monday and also the teacher was in high demand.

Poor students. They will have a lot of slides. As for me, I could spend all day lost in the depth of your eyes, hanging onto every word you say, never dreaming of dozing off and taking a nap.

I am happy for Brendan. It is defiantly a big life milestone.

I am working from home today. So dress code is ultra casual. Just me in tee or maybe even less. Haha. No dress to impress here. Just keeping it real.

Oh, I know how you dress at home. I want that pic.

Sure.

I am cooking tonight. Rainbow trout. I love sharing it with you.

Lets have a phone call tonight. I am calling you in a few minutes.

After a long day, you made time to call me, had precision in presentation,

, sipped a glass of wine listening to music. These details are remarkable and I love when you share.

Last night, getting off the phone, I felt euphoric. Hearing your happiness was the high of my already terrific day.

In basic military training we would have counted down until graduation. Everyday we would say how many "wake ups" we had before we would leave our current situation for a better one..

One more wake up

Good morning. You were in my dream this morning.

This is a lovely place to be.

We were in a run down century old home, however the interior was outdated mid century modern, think burnt orange everywhere. You drafted plans for reconstruction. The bottom level/basement had a cement floor but had an underground sanitation channel for a waste system that flowed into a spring creek. It had not been used in decades. there was a tightly fit stone, manhole like cover with two rusted iron loops that pried open with crowbar to look at this septic creek. Instead of a nasty system it was oddly brightly lit, clean water and fish. You said you would make the floor glass so everyone would appreciate its beauty.

It was a very detailed dream, the wood details, the long planks on the floor, the kitchen cabinets had children toys from 1970s, there was iMac toy computer. The basement had a center piece arched brick fireplace. Large persiana rugs covering the stone and cement floor. There was a round sitting room with several antique claw foot chairs, it was very dark rich, deep tones, much different than upstairs design.

Wao, that was a detailed dream. I love your creativity and imagination

I would love one more day to focus on my courses. I would love for you to come today, but realistically I can not focus the way I need to when I am next to you. I would love for you to come on Wednesday., please.

Good luck today, I understand how your meeting might be mentally and emotionally exhausting. I wish, of all days, I wasn't so busy. I wouldn't normal give you advice on such a delicate subject but don't lose your worth because she has Venus. You can offer the opposite and state you will live in the house and have primary custody. I know you feel Venus needs to be with her but it is a card you can play if things are beyond unfair.

I believe you are a wonder of human, you are brilliant and deeply caring. You are facinationg and I am a privileged girl with you.

Hi babe, so we just wrapped up our mediation session. It turns out we were not able to come to mutual agreement this time around, as things a bit complicated, courtesy of Brandis. Looks like we will ave to schedule another session, which means a bit more paperwork and some additional attorney 4k costs which is "fantastic"!

How did thongs go?

South, lol

Really, I am sorry! I can listen only if you want to talk about it.

We will talk about it tomorrow.

Sure, see you tomorrow evening at the yoga class.

I can not wait.

Good morning, I cant wait to see you tonight. This morning lecture was a lot of fun, this afternoon is killing me.

You can survive the afternoon. I will make sure to help you recover.

Hey did you make the watermelon salad for Brendan?

Lol, I just ate it. Brendon missed out, he is at his friends house. I am not gonno lie, it taste better without salt.

Are you serious? Then I wouldn't add salt for him. No lemon juice, salt and pepper. Only feta cheese for him then.

I forgot the lemon, only feta and pepper.

Lemon is the important one. You are funny. You just had a fruit bowl mix.

Babe, how can I do this without you?

At least you didn't miss the mint? right?

When I make Brendan, I will add lemon for him.

Ah, okay. So I had fruit salad, because I forgot the mint either.

Haha. I am not reliable in the kitchen?

Did you add olive oil at least? Lol ..

No

Did you eat the ribs?

I had one big rib with salad then had the fruit salad. What of your plans tomorrow? I am going to Americas around noon tomorrow. Ish has a backyard project that he needs Brendan to help him with. Brendan needs to lug some landscaping rocks to the backyard.

If the weather permits, go for a bike ride around the lake, come back, cook a red tilapia fish for Venus.

By the way, tell Brendan to lift heavy items with proper lifting style. You don't want to put the wait on your back.

Good morning. How is your morning starting off? Did you make sweet Venus breakfast yet?

Morning babe. Venus and I rolled out of the bed around 6:30 am. We munched on some breakfast before dividing into our Lego adventure. And we are so closed to finish it. Are you taking yoga today?

I just came back from yoga. Strongest day, yet. Got my bird of paradise on both sides.

Awesome. I am so proud of you. I knew you had it in you. Didn't I say some yoga poses aren't as tricky as them seem and you can do it.

You are so correct. Taking Friday off gave the chance to be stronger today. It was Nick, the instructor from our last class. My legs didn't fail me today.

You always need recovery and recuperating time. That is why the January challenge of black swan class didn't make sense to me. Having 30 class in 30 days in excessive. Did Brendan help Ish?

Yes, we just got back home. Ish over paid him for his help. How was your bike ride? Brendan enjoyed his ribs. Thank you babe for giving me leftovers.

That is okay. I never complain if I get over paid. Lol. We didn't feel biking today. Perhaps tomorrow. I did judo with Venus. Now we are taking a nap.

I see your effort and care, you maximize your weekend with her. I know how that feels. When you care, you do it deeply and passionately. I love this about you. I am getting ready for yoga. I have a few things to do this morning, car wash, groceries, pick up some dirt from Lows; for my plants, take my certification exam, and review for Monday and Tuesday class. Brendan has to paint the wall he destroyed by punching it. and he needs to do his geometry homework. Yesterday Brendan said Ish was out pacing him with moving limestones. They didn't finish so Brendan will need to be back next weekend when Ish places some French drain.

It is cool you got some free time today to run errands. I am envy you made it to yoga.

We ended up at the bike track and she did a whole 6 miles. Super proud of her for that. Brandis just picked Venus up. Now I am cleaning the mess she made.

I am about to take my certification exam. Side note, I correctly made the fruit salad, Brandan said who puts salt on fruit. I remade it and he didn't like Feta cheese. Basically he had fruit bowl. the other night she sent me a recipe for sliders and aske me to make them for dinner. He ate five of them.

He is growing. This is normal. You can't believe how much I used to eat when I was 16. Also you are a great chef for sure. The picture looks yummy.

They came out good. We have a rule in the house that if he doesn't empty the dish washer, he has to put away all the dishes that stack up in the sink. He has dishes, painting, and garbage to do tonight.

Nice rules. I like our rules too. I cook, and you clean up.

Look what I drank. Just had a beer you got a year ago. There were sitting in my fridge of a year. As you can tell I am not a true beer lover.

Hey love, Erika is over tonight hanging out. I just wanted to say I am thinking about you.

Hey sweetheart, I hope you are having a lovely time with Erika. I just experienced an intense sweaty hot yoga class. I practically turned into a human puddle. After cooking some fish tonight, I had a phone conversation with a friend of mine who lost her dad and having a hard time. I think she needed a shoulder to lean on. Tomorrow I will head out to the city of College Station to check out the potential fire station project. It will be an opportunity to hangout with Venus too when I am there.

Sounds like you had a great class. I can't wait to be in a puddle of your sweat. Lol. I am hoping to hit yoga tomorrow. I am sorry for your friend loss. You have an empathetic ear, I am sure that was hard for you as well, potentially reliving your own loss and pain. That was very kind of you to support her.

I am reviewing for tomorrow's lecture. A little behind since Erika stopped in but it was nice to have her over for dinner. I made butternut squash Ravioli and a light salad. Good luck in College Station. I can imagine them seeing your attention to detail as a major asset in such a big project.

Hey sunshine, every time you talk about that delicious butternut squash ravioli, I get super curious about its taste. I can not wait to try it.

I have been diving deep into an ADU design project lately, and you know what? It is growing on me to the point that I am thinking about making it my own eventually. I started liking it.

Hey handsome, how is the site visit in College Station going? Are you going to pick up Miss Venus from school while there?

I would love to see your most recent designs. I love how creative you are, do you remember showing me sketches about a year ago—the NFL player? It was impressive to see you in your element. Tracing paper on the floor, pencil, you flipping from one page to the other. Do you prefer courtyard or ADU?

On my way to College Station now. I will pick her up and will have dinner with them., Well, I love courtyard design but I think after the rough financial year, I had and plus my divorce, the ADU fits my budget better.

I understand it takes time to recover. Divorce is costly. Drive safe and enjoy your dinner.

Just finished my meeting with the fire station team. I didn't love their project, but they loved me apparently.

I can't imagine anyone not loving your ideas and energy. I can't wait to see you, Cyrus.

Good morning Gloria, I am back home in Austin now.

Welcome back. I am glad you were able to have more time with Venus. I am in a class, discussing newborn circulation and care.
